ORAL CANCER SCREENING CAMP – ORAL CANCER AWARENESS MONTH CELEBRATIONS – BY DEPT. OF ORAL MEDICINE AND RADIOLOGY

As part of our commitment to community health and early detection of oral diseases, the Department of Oral Medicine and Radiology at MAHE Dental College organized a month-long Oral Cancer Screening Camp from April 1st to April 30, 2025. This initiative aimed at raising awareness about oral cancer, promoting tobacco cessation, and facilitating early diagnosis and intervention.

. Objectives

- To screen individuals for early signs of oral cancer and precancerous lesions.
- To educate the public about risk factors, especially tobacco use.
- To offer counselling and referral services for further diagnosis and management.
- To contribute to the institution's outreach and community service efforts.

. Camp Activities:

- Daily screening sessions conducted at the college OPD .
- Health education using projects .
- Tobacco cessation counseling.
- Referrals to specialist departments when needed.

Participation and Statistics:

- Total number of individuals screened: 147
- Male participants: 107
- Female participants: 40
- Patients with suspected precancerous lesions: 38
- Patients referred for biopsy/further evaluation: 28
- Number of individuals counselled for tobacco cessation: 43

5. Observations:

- Majority of patients with suspicious lesions had a history of tobacco chewing or smoking.
- Increased awareness observed among younger participants compared to previous years.
- Many patients were unaware of the early symptoms of oral cancer, highlighting the need for regular community-based education.

6. Conclusion:

The Oral Cancer Screening Camp was a significant step towards improving oral health awareness and early diagnosis of potentially malignant disorders. The month-long initiative witnessed active participation from both faculty and students and received positive feedback from the community.

7. Acknowledgments:

We extend our sincere thanks to Our Chairman, Principal, Administrative manager, staff interns, and students of MAHE Dental College for their support and dedication.
